Our Mission

MCKS Food For Hungry, Caring Heart, India is the service arm supported by MCKS Pranik Healing Trust West Bengal and is a charitable organization that helps alleviate suffering of underprivileged people and empowers them to become self sustainable

Currently we are concentrating our focus and projects on Sapla, Nayapara, Jalaberia 2no, Gorankati 3no & Gorankati 4no Villages at South 24 Paraganas, Sunderbans in West Bengal. We will gradually increase our reach in nearby

Grand Master Choa Kok Sui, modern founder of Pranik Healing and Arhatic Yoga, formed special charitable foundations to enable us to help countless people in need all over the world with our tithes & resources.

Many humanitarian projects are undertaken by dedicate volunteers & students of Grand Master Choa & they continue to be a labor of love for serving humanity

Projects involve providing those in need with not only the basic necessities (food, clothing, etc), but with the hope of a brighter future & better life through education, vocational training, & the sponsoring of medical procedures & expenses. We work to restore faith in times of natural crises through providing immediate help as well as assistance in long term rehabilitation.

In all our activities & decisions, we make every attempt to uphold the vision & philosophies of our Beloved Teacher & to use our hands as an extension of His Heart.

Heartfelt Thank You

We are ever grateful for your valuable support as together we continue to uplift the condition of underprivileged areas of society & serve humanity.

Looking forward to your continued generous donations for helping create a permanent transformation in the consciousness & life conditions of the beneficiaries.

May the good karma come back to you & your loved ones many, many times!
